

One-Word Photo Edits

for  ChatGPT

Change the angle, the light and the style of your photos by typing a single GPT Image command. No editing app. No long prompts.

A photo editor made of single words.

This book collects 83 short commands for editing photos in ChatGPT. Each one changes one thing: the camera angle, the lens, the light, the weather, or the whole style.

83

COMMANDS

Each shown with the photo it was run on and the result it gave.

9

CHAPTERS

From fixing the light to full art styles, in the order you would use them.

17

TWO-PHOTO EDITS

Try-ons, product shots and copied looks from a second photo.

No editing app. No long prompts. Find the look you want, type the word under it.

You need ChatGPT with image generation, and a photo of your own.

These are not official ChatGPT features. ChatGPT reads each word as a short instruction, so results vary from one run to the next.

How to use a command

Open ChatGPT.

01

Use the app or chatgpt.com and start a new chat.

Add your photo.

02

Tap the + beside the message box and choose a photo.

Type one command.

03

Exactly as printed, slash included.
Nothing else.

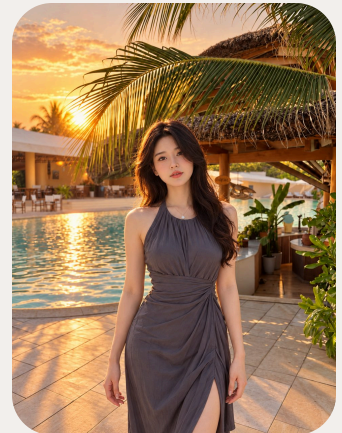

/goldenhour

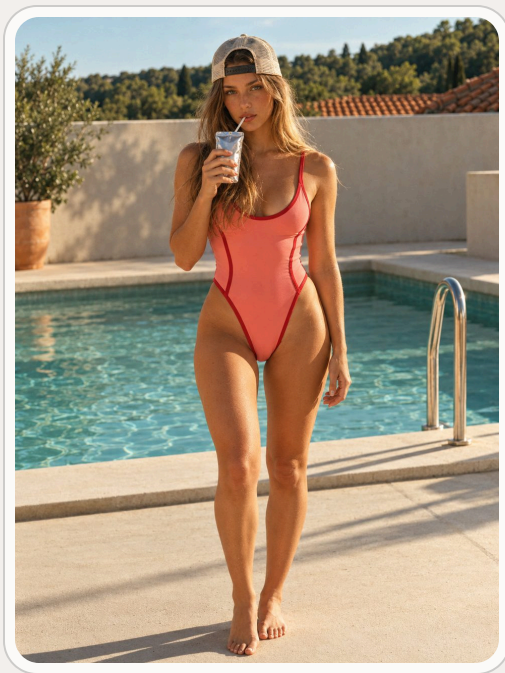

Send.

04

ChatGPT edits the photo with GPT Image and returns a new one. Save it like any picture.

For a two-photo command, add both photos before you type. Photo 1 goes first.
